However, to enhance patient care and convenience, WellPhy is introducing a semi-IP (Intermediate Patient) program that offers onsite accommodations for Arab foreign nationals and other distant patients. This program aims to provide extra care to patients during their treatment, as well as generate additional revenue for the clinic. By accommodating patients on-site, WellPhy can offer a more integrated and personalized approach to patient care. Enhancing quality of life with non-invasive back pain treatment

This problem is not limited to individual households, as it can also impact the financial wellness of an entire society. That's where Wellphy comes in - our goal is to provide non-invasive medical techniques to help people live pain-free lives. We believe that by addressing the root causes of back pain, we can help alleviate the financial burden that it can cause for individuals and society as a whole.
